

BETRAYED WHILE HE PRAYED.

Brooklyn Colored Church Circles Stirred Up by a Divorce Suit.

His Wife's Intimate Friend Testifies for Trustee Moore.

T. McCants Stewart, Brooklyn's colored lawyer and member of the Board of Education, appeared before Judge Clement and a jury in the Brooklyn City Court this morning as counsel for William H. Moore, colored, who is suing his wife, Fannie Moore, for an absolute divorce. The case is causing a stir in colored church circles.

Moore is a truckman and is said to have embezzled quite a large amount of money. He is also a trustee of the African Methodist Episcopal Church in Bridge street. The couple were married in Brooklyn March 1881. They have had no children.

Moore charges his wife with improper conduct with Thomas Richardson and Robert Robbins.

Mrs. Moore, who is a rather good-looking mulatto, denies the charges, and brings counter suit for a seduction. She says that her husband has treated her in a cruel and inhuman manner; that he has beaten her, and that she has been compelled to leave the house to escape his assaults.

Mrs. Ida B. Davis, of No. 334 Hudson avenue, was the first witness. She had known the Moore's about two years. On one occasion she testified, while living in a house with the Moore's where there were two lodgers, Mrs. Moore asked her when the lodgers were going out of the house which one she liked best.

Mrs. Davis said she replied that she had no friend other than her husband. Mrs. Moore then said she asked as to why Mrs. Davis "a mean trick," as she did not want to take a friend away. One of the lodgers was the respondent, Richardson.

While Mrs. Davis was testifying Moore buried his face in his hands and moved his lips as if he was in prayer.

Richardson called on Mrs. Moore on Sunday evening and remained several hours, while her husband was leading prayer-meeting at church, Mrs. Davis testified.

She said she warned the couple that if Moore caught them together he might shoot them.

Richardson said he didn't think that Moore would shoot him.

"Well, there's more ways to kill a dog than by hanging him," Mrs. Davis said she told him.

The case is still on.

NEW GREEK MINISTRY.

Recent Elections Effect a Change in Grecian Politics.

D. N. Botassi, Consul-General of Greece in this city, today received a cable despatch from the Minister of Foreign Affairs at Athens announcing the formation of a new Cabinet as follows:

M. Trikoupi, Prime Minister and Minister of Finance; M. Dragoumis, Minister of Foreign Affairs; M. Theodoris, Minister of the Interior; M. Siniopoulos, Minister of Justice; M. Kossanakis, Minister of Public Instruction; M. Tzannidis, Minister of War; M. Beouloudis, Minister of Marine.

The new ministry has come into power just after the recent elections. It has more than a three-quarters majority in the Chamber.

VIENNESE MAKE BISMARCK TALK

The Czar's Congratulations Sent to Count Herbert and His Bride.

VIENNA, June 23.—Towards midnight last night Prince Bismarck visited the Munch Beer Hall in this city. The place was crowded and as the Prince entered he was at once recognized. The people sitting about the tables rose to their feet and everybody cheered the ex-Chancellor lustily.

Cries for a speech were heard, and these were taken up and repeated until Prince Bismarck raised his hand. At once everything became quiet and the Prince addressed the crowd. He said that now he was bound to Vienna by ties of relationship, and in view also of the fact that he was a free and independent man he hoped to make more frequent visits to the hospitable Austrian capital.

When the Prince had finished his short speech the crowd again broke forth in cheers and gave other tokens of their enthusiastic appreciation of him.

The New York Herald, of this city, states that the Czar has telegraphed to Count von Schouvaloff, Russian Ambassador at Berlin, who was one of the guests at Count Herbert Bismarck's wedding, to inform his Majesty's congratulatory telegram to Prince Bismarck and Count Herbert upon the latter's marriage.

INVESTIGATING A MAY DEATH.

Nathan W. Jackson's Son Claims His Father Met Foul Play.

The Brooklyn police are investigating the mystery attending the death of Nathan W. Jackson, whose body was found in the water off Coney Island May 30.

It was believed then that he had been accidentally drowned, but a son of the deceased has requested Coroner Rooney to hold an inquest, claiming that a private autopsy had developed the fact that Mr. Jackson did not come to his death by drowning.

The son also said that his father had $100 in cash which was missing when the body was found. The inquest will be held July 1.

Daughter of American Banker

Harjes Married in Paris.

PARIS, June 23.—This afternoon, in the French Protestant Church near the Arc de Triomphe, Miss Bertha Harjes, daughter of Mr. Harjes, the American banker here, was married to M. Charles Waddington, son of M. Edmond Waddington, a member of the French Senate and a nephew of M. Waddington, the French Ambassador to England.

The bride's witness was T. Jefferson Colledge, the American Minister to France.

Charged with Wearing a Criminal's Coat.

Cost.

"Eddy" Miller, with at least half a dozen aliases, was held in the Jefferson Market Police Court this morning on a charge of wearing a criminal's coat with pockets extending half way round. This is in violation of the Penal Code.

Offer for Jay Gould's "L" Stock.

George Gould says it is true that a proposition has been made for the purchase of Mr. Gould's holdings of Manhattan, but they do not intend to give the proposition any consideration. They do not want to sell their stock.

Pryor—Do you run your household? Frank—No; my wife runs that.

Pryor—Ah, I see; you run the office.

Frank—No; the janitor runs that.

Pryor—What is thunder do you run?

Frank—Well, I run back and forth.

A Bad Case of It.

(From Judge.)

"Parker was very absent-minded. I've known that man to walk home from the club without his hat on a cold winter night."

"Yes, I remember Parker. He was dreadfully absent-minded. He went to Canada with another man's wife in one of his fits."
